countries that observe it.

No new rebar deals were reported from Saudi Arabia, as market participants said only some small quantities had been imported, and they were not aware of the latest prices. February levels were at $629 per tonne CPT.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar) import, cfr Jebel Ali, UAE was $673-682 per tonne on March 10, widening upward from $629-665 per tonne on March 3.

Billet imports

Sources said no new billet offers from China or Indonesia had been heard in the UAE because of uncertainty over safe delivery owing to the conflict in Iran.

"No news [from] me, as safe delivery is still a concern. Let's see what will happen," a second trader source told Fastmarkets, adding that billet prices should be around $475 per tonne CFR at the lowest but was not aware of current bid levels in the UAE.

China is a key billet supplier to the UAE, but shipments from the country have halted due to the closure of the Strait of Hormuz.

A producer source in Saudi Arabia also said billet trade to the country was currently limited but could be possible through some Red Sea ports, while a third trader said Chinese steel material might be able to reach Jeddah, but it was still doubtful.

Fastmarkets kept its price assessment stable due to the lack of price points following the latest events in the region.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel billet, import, cfr Jebel Ali, UAE was $460-480 per tonne on Tuesday, unchanged since February 24.

Turkish pipe export prices increase, buyers hesitant on freight cost uncertainty

By Serife Durmus - Wednesday 11 March

The prices for Turkish steel pipe exports increased by $40-50 per tonne during the past month, but buyers were hesitant to book because of the uncertainty on freight costs, sources told Fastmarkets on Wednesday March 11.

Fastmarkets' monthly price assessment for steel structural pipe export S235JR grade EN10219 2mm wall thickness, fob main port Turkey was $640-660 per tonne on March 11, rising from $600-610 per tonne on February 11.

Turkish pipe producers exported the product at $640 per tonne and $650 per tonne FOB during the past month to buyers in Europe. The latest offers were at $640-670 per tonne FOB.

"Uncertainties persist, including that the European Union quotas are unclear, regulations regarding CBAM are influencing buyers' decisions and some traders are shifting from Turkish producers to local European producers," an executive with a Turkish pipe producer said.

Freight costs have been increasing since the start of the tension in the Middle East on February 28, and global markets have been affected.

Demand was moderate in Europe because of the possibility of a reduction of safeguard quotas by 50% in July, as well as the uncertainty on freight costs.

Ukraine launched an anti-dumping probe into Turkish welded pipe imports, according to an announcement by the country's Interdepartmental Commission on International Trade (ICIT) on March 4.

"Ukraine has never been a very large market for pipe manufacturers (due to its domestic producers). A duty might be imposed from there; the average annual export tonnage from Turkey was 30,000 tonnes, which wouldn't significantly disrupt the sector. However, these small tonnages, when combined with other problematic countries, accumulate and reduce our export alternatives, lowering our capacity utilization rate," a Turkish pipe exporter said.

Turkish flat steel prices also increased during the past week.
