Small privately owned mills were offering 3.0-3.5mm-thick, 1,250-1,500mm-wide SS400/Q235-grade HRC at $485-494 per tonne FOB on Tuesday, unchanged from Monday.

The best offers for similar material from larger, state-owned mills were at a base price of $495-500 per tonne FOB on Tuesday, narrowed up from $490-500 per tonne FOB on Monday, according to sources.

Market participants said a major state-owned mill had sold SAE1006- or Q195-grade HRC at around $505 per tonne CFR Busan, South Korea, equivalent to roughly $493-495 per tonne FOB based on estimated freight costs of $10-12 per tonne.

Green steel

Fastmarkets' assessment for flat steel reduced carbon emissions, daily inferred, exw China, was 3,260-3,470 yuan per tonne on Tuesday, narrowed up by 10 yuan per tonne from 3,250-3,470 yuan per tonne on Monday.

This was assessed based on Fastmarkets' fortnightly price assessment for flat steel reduced carbon emissions differential, exw China, which calculates the premium for flat-rolled reduced carbon emissions steel over products produced from the traditional blast furnace-based route and came in at 0-200 yuan per tonne on Friday July 31.

Market chatter

"Seasonal demand remains weak, and the disruption caused by the typhoon has also distorted the usual transition from the off-season to the peak season in August," a China-based industry analyst said. "Market participants therefore remain cautious about the strength of the current rebound."

Shanghai Futures Exchange

The most-traded SHFE HRC October contract closed at 3,244 yuan per tonne on Tuesday, up by 9 yuan per tonne from 3,235 yuan per tonne on Monday.

Rebar news

UAE import billet widens upward on shipping logjams; rebar prices steady

By Hristo Rimpopov - Tuesday 11 August

United Arab Emirates (UAE) rebar prices remained stable in the week to Tuesday August 11, while billet import prices widened upward as shipping disruptions continued to constrain seaborne supply.

Domestic rebar

Demand for rebar in the UAE remained subdued during the week, with market activity still affected by the summer slowdown and delays to construction projects across the Gulf Cooperation Council (GCC).

A UAE-based trader told Fastmarkets that buying interest had remained limited following the leading domestic producer's booking of around 140,000 tonnes in late July.

Market sources said the lack of fresh project activity was keeping buyers cautious, with end users largely purchasing only when immediate requirements arose.

One market participant told Fastmarkets that buyers were waiting for next week, when the largest local mill is expected to announce its September offer.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar), domestic, exw UAE was 2,850-2,950 dirhams ($776-803) per tonne on August 11, unchanged from the previous week.

Rebar imports

Imported rebar prices were also stable over the week, with market participants reporting little change in underlying transaction levels.

The leading regional producer maintained its offer at $788 per tonne CPT Jebel Ali and was heard to have concluded a booking of around 100,000 tonnes in early August.

A source at the producer said there was limited scope for prices to move lower, pointing to continued difficulties with raw-material availability and logistics.

However, two market participants were bearish on the outlook, citing weak construction activity.

"New projects are not starting, and many people have put their projects on hold because of the current market situation," one of the sources said.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel reinforcing bar (rebar), import, cpt Jebel Ali, UAE was $775-800 per tonne on August 11, unchanged week on week.

Billet imports

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel billet imports widened upward in the week to Tuesday August 11, with the increase concentrated at the top of the range amid firmer regional GCC indications and offers.

The lower end continued to be informed by theoretical indications for billet from the Far East. However, the viability of seaborne cargoes remained constrained by ongoing disruptions to shipping through the Strait of Hormuz.

Market participants said that Chinese billet had been shipped to ports in Oman and UAE before being moved overland to Jebel Ali. But increasing freight costs and port congestion have made those routes commercially unattractive.

"Everybody wants to go to these ports and you can imagine that everything is filled up to the roof. It's a mess," one market participant told Fastmarkets.

A trader said that "some overseas mills have stopped offering billet on a CFR basis, choosing FOB instead because nobody is willing to take a chance on shipping to the Middle East."

"If mills are offering on an FOB basis, you can buy September or October shipments. But the question is, who is going to provide the vessel? No vessel owner wants to risk getting their cargo vessel stuck in the region," they added.

At the upper end of the market, regional GCC indications and offers were heard at higher levels than in the previous week, supporting an increase at the top of the range.

Fastmarkets' weekly price assessment for steel billet, import, cpt Jebel Ali, UAE was $560-635 per tonne on August 11, widening upward by $15 per tonne from $560-620 per tonne in the previous week.
